WHITEHAVEN COMMUNITY TRUST
BENEFIT FROM CHRISTMAS CARD SAVINGS

Following a meeting at Westlakes Research Institute with the Reverend Jim Baker, the Institute's Principal & CEO, John Lackie took the opportunity to present Jim with a cheque for £250 to go towards renewing an overworked washing machine at the Trust's community home, Baker House.

The contribution was made as a direct result of savings achieved by the Institute in issuing electronic Christmas Cards. John said he was delighted to be able to make the donation to such a worthy cause, especially one aimed at helping local youth and making such a valuable contribution to the local community.

The Reverend thanked John saying, “I am particularly delighted to receive this donation from Westlakes Research Institute as I have felt for some time that we need to build on the synergy between the two organisations. We both focus on youth in our community we just go about it in different ways”.
